Standing in Holy Places

Description: Let each family member write ways they can "stand in holy places", and the blessings that come from it. Use the shoes as a reminder to stand in holy places this week.

What you need:

- A copy of the "Standing in Holy Places" activity, scissors, pencils, crayons or markers.

Preparation:

1. Print out the artwork.
2. Cut out shoes.

Activity: Ask: What does it mean to "stand in holy places?"

Explain: Holy places can be the temples, our church buildings, and our homes. We can also find many other places that can be holy. Ann M. Dibb (former member of the Young Women General Presidency) said, "Holy places can also include moments in time--moments when the Holy Ghost testifies to us, moments when we feel Heavenly Father's love, or moments when we receive an answer to our prayers. Even more, I believe any time you stand for what is right, especially in situations where no one else is willing to do so, you are creating a holy place."

Give each person a pair of "shoes" and a pencil. On the blank side of one shoe, have each person write one or two ways they can stand in holy places. On the blank side of the other shoe, have each person write the blessings that can come from standing in those holy places.

Have each family member share what they wrote. Encourage family members to display the shoes somewhere where they can be reminded of their commitment to stand in holy places this week.

Optional: Color the shoes with crayons or markers.
